One Act Plays Set for Thursday In Little Theatre

The directing and acting classes of the drama department will present a night of one-act plays Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Little Theatre in the Administration Building.

"The Monkey's Paw," a three scene mystery by W. W. Jacobs, will begin the evening under the direction of Kenneth Price. Dan McLaughlin plays Mr. White; Lorraine Faubion, Mrs. White; James Standfield, Sgt. Major Morris; and Richard Cottrell, Mr. Sampson.

Next on the program is the unpleasant comedy by Noel Coward, "Fumed Oak." Carolyn Enis directs the cast of: Doris Wilson playing Doris Gow; Carol Wilson, Elsie Gow; Jeff Falter, Henry Gow; and Sharon Freeman, as Mrs. Rockett.

In the last production, Karen Jean Ibsen and Janelle Howe join in "Meet Me At Forest Lawn," an off-Broadway comedy production by Lorees Yerby.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or from the directors or members of the cast for 50 cents. Both the directors and actors are speech majors or minors.

Dr. Jones, Wife Honored at St. Joe Tuesday Noon

A luncheon was held yesterday by the Parent-Teachers Assn., and faculty of the Myrtle E. Miller and Mary U. Neipp schools, St. Joseph, in honor of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones. Dr. Jones is retiring soon as president of Northwest State College.

Among personnel from the college attending were Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Foster, Dr. and Mrs. Leon F. Miller, Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Koerble, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Thate, Dr. and Mrs. Milan Dady, Everett Brown, Dr. James Gleason and Dr. Howard George.

Among others attending were from the state department of special education, St. Joseph board of education members, Supt. George E. Blackwell, Mayor Arthur Meers, president Chamber of Commerce, newspaper representatives, PTA and various civic representatives, as well as personnel from the various schools.

St. Joseph Firm To Build MSC Fine Arts Bldg.

The Northwest State College board of regents has awarded to Glaze Construction Co., St. Joseph, the general contract for the construction of the MSC fine arts building.

The bid was $844,161.

Low bid for electrical work was $112,512 and the contract was awarded the Hoecker Electrical Co., St. Joseph.

The plumbing work contract went to Industrial Heating, St. Joseph, on its bid of $63,126.

Midwest Heating Co., Kansas City, submitted the low bid of $159,010 and will do the heating, ventilating and air conditioning.

Miscellaneous built in equipment will account for an expenditure of $80,084.48, which brings to $1,258,893.48 the construction costs for the new building, which is to be completed by Dec. 30, 1965, and to be used the second semester of the 1965-66 school year.

Fees, advertising and testing accounting for $78,533.61; venetian blinds, $9,000 (estimate) and contingency, $3,572.94, which brings to $1,350,000 the cost of the building, the amount allocated by the state.

A parking lot will be constructed on the south side of the building and St. Joseph Fuel Oil Co. got the contract for the work on their bid of $36,474.

AAUP to Hold Honors Banquet At MSC, May 8

The Maryville chapter of the American Association of University Professors will hold a formal banquet, Friday, May 8, in the Sycamore Room, Union Building, 6:30 p.m., in honor of academic achievement.

The main speaker for the banquet will be Dr. J. W. Jones, MSC president. Dr. George Gayler will preside, with Miss Avis Graham giving the invocation.

Dr. Earl Bragdon will present the following student honorees: freshmen, Karen S. Peters and Melanie G. Elsiminger; sophomores, Judy S. Combs and Johnnie M. Imes; juniors, Kay F. Graves and Sharon A. Ostrus; and seniors, Sandra Heater, Richard A. Meade, and Carol S. Miller.

The honorees are the two highest ranking students in their respective classes. Three are being honored in the senior class because of a tie in grade averages.

The spring graduate with the highest accumulative four-year grade average is Carol S. Miller.

Karen Kimbrough Is Queen of 1964 Frolics

Miss Karen Kimbrough '64 Frolics Queen

At the thirteenth annual Phi Sig Frolics held last Friday and Saturday, Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity combined talent, charm and humor in a minstrel show and beauty pageant.

Highlighting the evening was the beauty contest between eight coeds representing campus organizations. Out-of-town judges rated the girls on poise, personality, and appearance in evening gowns and sports clothes.

Frolics Queen

Miss Karen Kimbrough, a home economics major from Eagleville, Mo., was selected Queen of the Frolics. She represented Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

Other contestants were Miss Geneva Darnell, Kappa Omicron Phi; Miss Norena Hale, Colhecon; Miss Marilyn Hanna, Delta Zeta; Miss Carol Wallace, Town Girls' Association; Miss Ann Simpson, Phi Mu; Miss Ann Trotter, Alpha Sigma Alpha; and Miss Nadine Line, Sigma Phi Dolphin.

Master of ceremonies Jim Gartrell co-ordinated the show with interlocutor for Tom O'Neill and end men Jim Wilson, Bob Beck, Dave Ranum, Jim McClung, Dick Snider, and Harold Shepherd providing the entertainment. Featured on the program was Three Aces and a Joker, a quartet composed of Larry Reinike, John Spencer, Brian Taylor, and Thor McMillan.

Rich Cornelison was director of the Frolics, McMillan served as musical director, and Jack LaForce directed the queen contest.

Dietician Quits After One Day

The new dietician hired Apr. 20 for the Northwest State College cafeteria was on duty one day and then submitted his resignation because of a professional agreement.

Glen Vogt, 43, Denver, Colo., appeared and assumed his duties Monday at the cafeteria, but Tuesday morning submitted a written resignation.

Vogt said in his letter of resignation that he had entered into an agreement with a college food catering service Jan. 28, 1963, for two years, and that he was informed of his agreement by phone Tuesday and had to resign. He will not be free to accept a college food service position until Jan. 28, 1965.

College officials are now hunting for a new dietician to replace Mrs. M. T. Sheldon who resigned during the recent food demonstrations at the State College here.

Acting dietician is Mrs. Mary White, longtime food service employee.

Senate Election Thurs.

The Student Senate set up an election to fill the seat vacated by the new Student Body President, Glenn Acksel, when he was installed in office last Thursday.

The nominating convention for the junior class senator will be held Wednesday at noon in CH 314. The election will take place Thursday in the Colden Hall Lounge.

The person elected will serve until the fourteenth week of the fall semester of 1964-65.

Missourian Staffers To Attend J-Day Meet At Pittsburg State

Bob Johnson, Northwest Missourian co-editor, and Mr. H. H. Morris, Missourian advisor will attend a journalism day program at Pittsburg State College, Pittsburg, Kas., May 15.

Johnson will be on a panel which will question the head of the Associated Press's Dallas Bureau about the news coverage of the assassination of the late President Kennedy. The MSC editor was selected for the panel on the basis of his writing for the Missourian.

Mental Patients Visit MSC Campus

Fifteen patients from State Hospital No. 2 at St. Joseph, toured the MSC campus last week as part of National Mental Health Week.

Sponsored by the open house committee of the hospital, the tour included the industrial arts department, the home economics department, the museum, and the laboratories in the science department.

Members of Gamma Sigma Sigma and Alpha Phi Omega conducted the patients, staff members, and volunteers on the tour. Arrangements for the tour were made through Mr. Everett Brown of the field service office.

A College Newspaper Is . . . (In 1,500 Words or Less)

IN RECENT WEEKS, WE HAVE RECEIVED THREE LETTERS of criticism concerning certain policies adhered to by the Missourian. These criticisms have been quite valid in intent but have shown a rather apparent lack of proper journalistic understanding.

The main portion of this criticism has stemmed from the fact that the Missourian does not include an editorial section dealing with the nation's problems, politically, economically, etc., and with international conflicts. It also attacks our policy of dealing only with campus problems, editorial-wise.

This is a problem which confronts every college newspaper, regardless of size. "How shall we handle national problems in our paper?"

Most collegiate publications agree that it is not the responsibility of the collegiate press, especially that of smaller schools, to analyze such fields. There are several reasons for this, all quite valid and proven by much larger institutions than ours.

Probably the main objection by college newspaper editors and advisors is that few men or women of that age are actually qualified to attack, praise, or analyze such problems. And, of course, the main purpose of such editorials is usually to attack something or to suggest that certain actions or steps be taken in the particular area of concern.

There are few students on the average college campus, regardless of size in this instance, who are qualified to write editorials on national affairs. And at MSC none of those few students will write for the Missourian.

The political, economic, and domestic affairs of the nation move at such a fast pace that by the time an editorial, written for a deadline four days before, is printed, the entire situation may have changed so completely that new issues, entirely different than those originally written about, may have taken place.

The above are not our ideas concerning only one small element of the collegiate press, but they are tried and proven facts by experts in the field of journalism. Experts, Messrs. Murdock, Joekel and Keith. Forgive us if we choose to follow their advice and not yours.

For example, in Mr. Murdock's letter which appeared in the Feb. 19 edition, he assumes that the Missourian should take a stand on the likes of "whether or not wheat should be sold to the Communist bloc countries or should we follow Goldwater's solution and send Marines into Cuba?"

Murray Joekel, in his April 8 letter to the editors, states that he would include "national, state, or local affairs . . . religion, trends or problems in our society, or any one of a variety of subjects."

Ken Keith says "to question and attack administrative problems, both at the national and local levels." Mr. Keith then commits the unpardonable by making the bold statement that the Missourian should "insert opinion" into news stories.

A COLLEGE NEWSPAPER, ANY COLLEGE NEWSPAPER, has five areas which it may cover: campus news and announcements, campus features, editorials about campus affairs, editorial comment of national news, and national and international news. The newspaper can cover all five of these areas if it is able, but it must cover the first before it can cover the second, and the second before beginning on the third, and so on.

The order in which the five areas are listed is not coincidental. It indicates the priority system which the editors must use in assigning their personnel. One must assign reporters to campus events before he can assign them to feature stories. The editor must editorialize on the campus scene before he begins to plagiarize the opinions of syndicated columnists in what is often erroneously publicized under the byline of an editorial writer. Before a newspaper can subscribe to a national wire service, it must first pay its staff to cover the local scene and pay for its printing costs.

MSC does not offer even a minor in journalism. Consequently, the staff of reporters, which is the heart of any newspaper, is always inadequate and sometimes virtually nonexistent. At this point, the editorial staff, which could be delving into Goldwater's psyche, is out covering a campus news story. After writing three major stories a week for what is laughingly called an extra-curricular activity, one begins to feel a little less duty-bound to spend the hours of research necessary for a dissection of the good gentleman from Arizona.

WHILE IT IS TRUE THAT AN EDITORIAL IS AN OPINION, it is not true that an editor, at least a good editor, just sits down and writes what he thinks about an issue. He makes a thorough investigation of the issue and makes sure he understands all sides of the question. He must be fair to all sides but must still make an incisive analysis of the issue. Opinion isn't worth the lead it is set in unless it is backed up by solid reasoning and documented truth.

The real reason we printed the three above mentioned letters earlier in the year was not because we thought they had a valid point, but because we wanted to keep the lines of communication open through the letter to the editor's column. We have printed all letters we have received and printed them fully. Which brings us to another point: Tom O'Neill's letter.

It is this kind of letter which we enjoy printing. He stated an opinion and backed it up with considerable research. He did not deal with the trivia of malts (which, incidentally, is a paid ad) or snide comments about the sports coverage, but rather with issues (incidently, of a campus nature) which have some real meaning. We only wish that Messrs. Murdock, Joekel, and Keith would do the same. It is too easy to sit on the sidelines and tell everyone others are doing a bad job.

If you have opinions, express them. But don't expect people to spend their free hours between 2 a. m. and 6 a. m. writing material which you can read in the Kansas City Star-Times.

Editorial Exchange

(In a weekly column in the Easter Echo of Eastern Michigan University entitled Lagniappe, the writer, Bob Schuster, proposed converting the University President's office into an auto wash. Reprinted below are excerpts from his columns and from letters to the editor about SOFTPAW.)

Mar. 19

As everyone knows, one of the most vexing problems facing higher education today is the parking lots! There are those who would claim that the shortage of teachers and the lack of classroom space is the problem to be faced first. Ha! Do not listen to these capitalistic lackies! . . .

Of course, when a problem of such magnitude is posed, we can often expect ribald solutions. One such solution was suggested by an immature freshman, Miss Narfie Nedlog, who wished to convert a useless piece of property into something more utilitarian . . .

As I was sayin, Lagniappe proposes something more practical. I propose to convert President Elliott's office into an auto wash!

Think of what opportunities it offers: philosophy profs, while washing bumpers, can regain contact with reality; psychology profs can conduct guided field trips showing the effects of poor toilet training; off-campus co-eds could take showers!

The library could be razed for a parking lot and, in keeping with the design of the other lots, it would more than assist in promoting customers for the auto wash (the books would, of course, be donated to Greenfield Village and the Smithsonian Institution).

Students of Eastern, arise! Support this noble cause! Let your voices be heard above chaos! Protect Eastern from the creeping menace in Ann Arbor which seeks to engulf and destroy us all!

Delta Psi Kappa Conducts Initiation

Janice Rowe and Judy Saeger became members of Delta Psi Kappa, national physical education fraternity for women, on Apr. 27. Jane Stoner, president, conducted the initiation service held in the Martindale gymnasium.

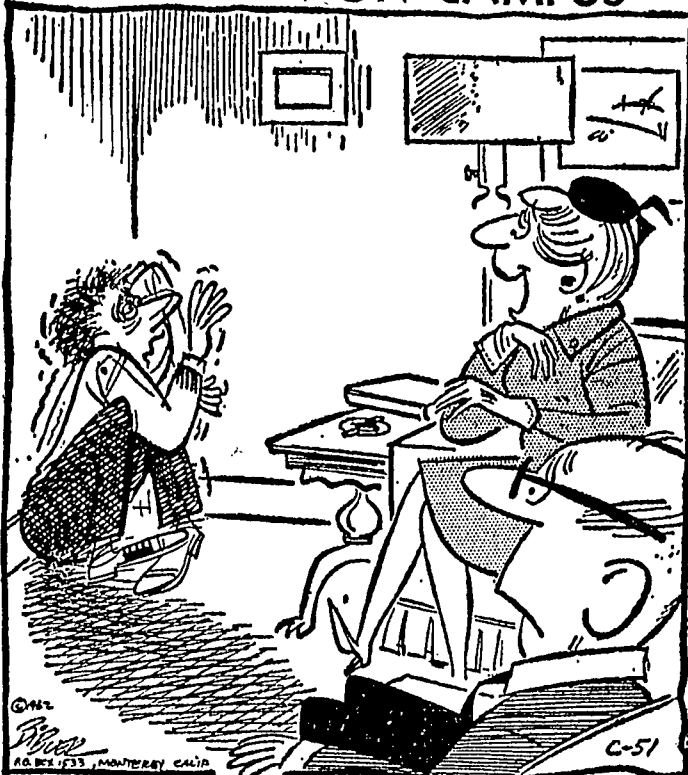

A short business meeting followed the service. Final plans were made for the trip to the National Delta Psi Kappa Convention in Washington, D. C., May 4 through 7. The group will also attend the American Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation Convention. Those who will attend are Kathy Bogdas, Barbara Chick, Roberta Edlin, Jane Stoner, and associate member Miss Miriam Sheldon.

FAYETTE, IA.—Good grades will pay off—literally—at Upper Iowa University beginning this summer.

Dr. Herschel Hendrix, vice-president and dean, announced that students whose names appeared on the dean's list during the first semester of this academic year were awarded honor certificates worth $100 when applied toward tuition at the first five-week summer session beginning June 1.

The program was initiated to recognize academic achievement in a material way, the college said.

In order to be named to the dean's list, a student must maintain a grade point average of 3.5 (B plus) or better out of a possible 4.0.

Students who attain the dean's list during the current semester will be awarded certificates redeemable during the second five-week summer session beginning July 6.

The certificates are not transferrable and are valid only during the term for which they are issued in the summer following the academic year in which they were awarded, Dr. Hendrix said.

We'd like to say some nice things about America's young adult drivers

And we think we've got good reason! Last January, we selected twenty 18- and 19-year-old young men and women through the Junior Achievement program to drive our team of Chevrolets in the Mobil Economy Run, April 3-9. It was the first time any company had relied entirely on drivers with limited experience in this exacting competition.

We brought these young adults—most of them college students, some from the business world—to Arcadia, California, in late February. For six weeks, our expert teachers trained them in the skills of economy driving.

Then, on April 3, they set off on the Run, 3,243 miles from Los Angeles to New York.

We were going against the grain. It takes high proficiency to win the Mobil Economy Run. Competition is tough. Why did we rely on drivers with such limited experience?

Chevrolet wanted to give the Chevy Teen Team a chance to prove in front of the nation that they and the 6.5 million licensed drivers in their age bracket are safe, sane people behind the wheel. We felt the Run offered a splendid chance.

The Corvair, Chevy IIs, Chevilles and Chevrolets driven by the Chevy Teen

Team in the Mobil Economy Run did remarkably well compared with the class winners in overall miles-per-gallon figures. The final results are a tribute to the high degree of driving skill displayed by the Chevy Teen Team representing the youth of America.

No wonder we're proud of America's young adult drivers. We couldn't have a better reason.

The Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association, better known as the MIAA, is directed by Commissioner Roy Brown, Lee's Summit, Mo. Commissioner Brown is in his initial year as league prexie, succeeding John Waldorf, who was appointed to an administrative position in the Big Eight.

Commissioner Brown has had a long and distinguished career in athletics and teaching. He coached football at Lee's Summit and East High Schools, Kansas City, from 1928-1955. During the 1954-55 seasons, his teams were undefeated in the Inter-Scholastic League in Kansas City. He was named to coach two All-Star teams, winning both contests. Brown has also served as basketball coach at both schools and is presently an instructor and head track coach at East High School.

He is a member of the State Track Committee and holds a like position on the Athletic Advisory Committee for the Inter-scholastic League.

Commissioner Brown received his B.S. from Central Missouri State, Warrensburg, and his M.A. from the University of Kansas City. While in college, he lettered four years in football and track and was an All-MIAA halfback three years in a row. His track team won their championships also for three years.

Son Stars in MIAA

Brown is married. His daughter lives in Springfield and is able to follow her father's MIAA teams as Springfield is a league member, winning the league grid title last year. His son, Warren Brown, was a member of the Kansas State University basketball team for three years and went to Indiana University to obtain his Master's. He is presently a Second Lieutenant in the United States Air Force in England.

Work in the MIAA

As the league Commissioner, Mr. Brown is in charge of league meetings, held alternately in Kansas City and St. Louis. He explained that in league voting, each college is allowed two votes, one by a member of the academic faculty, the other by the college athletic director or coach.

Also a part of the MIAA Commissioner's duties are concerned with officials for contests. Brown is well qualified here as he has officiated athletic contests himself since 1929 until he became Commissioner. He has worked in several top inter-sectional games, including the annual Kansas-Missouri games; Oklahoma-Texas A and M; Kansas State-New Mexico; and Iowa State-Arizona.

Commissioner Brown stated, "Plans for the next school year in the MIAA are being made to expand the sports' schedules by the member schools, but nothing definite has been agreed upon yet."

He added that he has not made any personal changes to date and that most of any changes which have been made in previous years were by the member schools, for the most part.

Also several of Brown's former athletes whom he coached in high school have gone on to gain positions in the area. Among them are Jim Nelson, assistant football and head basketball coach, William Jewell; Ed Nelson, head basketball coach, Park College; Walter Hicklin, head football coach, Lee's Summit High School; Robin Hicklin, assistant football coach, Ruskin High School; Ernest Paris, head track coach, Westport High School; and J. T. Little, assistant football and basketball, Central High School, Kansas City.

MSC Is Sixth; Set New Mile Relay Record

The Bearcats scored 30 points as Northwest State College finished sixth of 11 colleges in the Graceland Relays which were held Saturday at Lamoni, Ia.

Graceland won the meet with 57 points, edging William Jewell who finished with 54. Other scores are Ottawa, Kas., 43; Parsons, 40; Hastings, 37; MSC, 30; Baker, Kas., 26; Southwestern Kansas, 19; College of Emporia, 13; Tarkio, 10; and Central Missouri, 0.

Maryville won only one event, the mile relay. The Bearcats set a new school record of 3:24.9, breaking the old record of 3:26.1 set in 1934. Members of the winning relay team were Dan Haskell, Peter Heindertsma, John Craig and Phil Frahm.

The Bearcats entered teams in four of six relays, and placed in all four. Most of the Bearcats' points came in the field events. The next meet for the track team is the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Assn. track meet Saturday at Kirksville.

Brumley Wins As MSC Splits

The Northwest State College baseball team split a double-header with Warrensburg in two close contests Saturday afternoon on the MSC diamond.

Ron Brumley gave up only one hit and allowed no runs in the second contest as the Bearcats won 2-0. Maryville used eight hits to score one run in both the first and fourth innings.

Steve Croley took the loss for the Bearcats in the first contest. Although he only gave up seven hits and three runs, Maryville could collect only one run on four safeties.

Gary Shaw, Bernie Ricono and Howard Rolfe each collected two hits in the two games for Maryville, and Shaw and Ricono each pounded a double for the Bearcats' only extra base hits.

All four pitchers went all the way. Maryville had four errors and Warrensburg five. The Bearcats are now 9-6 for the season.

MSC Defeats Tarkio, 113-22 on Owls' Oval

The Northwest State College track team defeated Tarkio 113-22 Thursday in a meet at Tarkio.

Intramural Night To Feature "Big Eight" Relay Race

MSC's intramural program will sponsor a special night of contests, Wednesday, May 13, at 7:00 p.m., on the college track in Memorial Stadium.

Featured event of the evening will be the "Big 8", a special relay race between fraternity-sorority teams. Several other events will also be included in the program, directed by Dr. H. D. Peterson and student intramural director Rex Pettegrew.

The "Big 8" is an entirely new innovation by the intramural committee, according to Dr. Peterson. The event will be an eight-mile relay, with five boys peddling bicycles for one mile, five girls peddling a half mile, and finally a boy sprinting the last one-half mile of the relay.

Each team will be composed of five male peddlers, five female peddlers, and one sprinter. The intramural council will officiate the relays.

Dr. Peterson commented on the new idea for intramurals, "This is a co-recreational affair competitive-wise, and we hope it will be spectator-wise, also. This is the first co-recreational event opened to student fans. We expect a large turn-out since over 1,200 watched the volleyball finals recently. It is intended to be a date affair and will be under the lights. We think we have a very competitive, as well as entertaining evening planned."

MSC Netters Defeat Mules For 12th Win

The Northwest State College tennis team won its 12th victory without a defeat as they blanked Warrensburg, 9-0, Friday on the MSC courts.

Neil Reynolds, MSC, won over Bill Cook, 6-0, 2-6, 6-4 to take the No. 1 singles' match. Bruce Horrell beat Jim Caldwell, 6-1, 6-4, in the second position match. Other MSC winners were Bob Schagg over Chuck Baldwin, 6-1, 6-1; Stan DeCosmo over Jack Taylor, 6-1, 7-5; Wayne Mains over John Paige, 6-1, 6-1; and Richard over Tom Crow, 6-1, 6-1.

Horrell and Schagg took the number one doubles' match from Baldwin and Paige, 6-2, 6-3. Reynolds and Mains beat Taylor and Cook, 8-6, 6-4, and DeCosmo and Sellers triumphed over Caldwell and Crow, 6-4, 6-2.

Part of the last set of the number two doubles was played on the Lamkin gymnasium court because of rain.

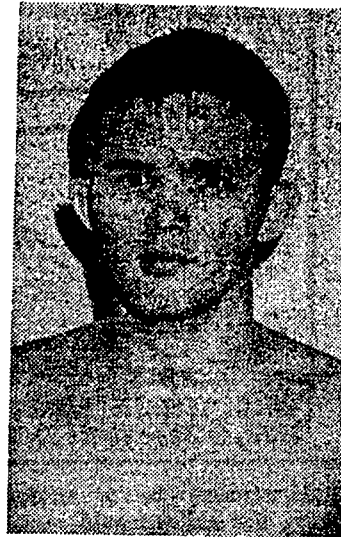

The next match for the unbeaten Bearcats will be at 3 p. m., Monday in Tarkio. The 'Cats previously won over the Owls, 9-0.

Two Wrestlers Rated High

MSC Bearcat wrestling stars Harvey Hallum and Allen Packer were recently rated among the nation's top sophomores by Amateur Wrestling News.

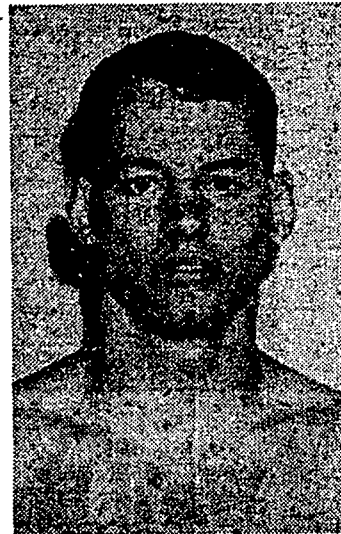

Ratings were compiled by the magazine's staff, and included both college and university divisions of the NCAA grouped into one. Hallum and Packer ranked with several big name wrestlers from major universities.

Hallum wrestles in the 123-pound class, Packer in the 167-pound division. Both men were outstanding throughout the season, making strong showings in the NCAA College Division meet in Cedar Falls, Ia., earlier in the year. Packer finished fourth in his weight class, losing to the eventual champion, 3-2, in an early round match. Hallum, who was bothered by a severe kidney infection through the first part of the season, came on strong but also lost to the eventual tournament winner in the 123-pound class.

Coach Landwer said about his two stars, "Hallum and Packer certainly deserve the honor of being ranked among the best. Both showed a lot of desire and determination, along with their natural abilities."

Are you worried about the HCL on campus?

Money, money, money! There's never enough, is there? But clever collegians now cope with the High Cost of Living in a very pleasant way. They're becoming part-time (or summer-time) Tupperware dealers. Which means, they demonstrate these famous plastic food containers at home parties — and earn up to $50 a week, or more. Sounds like fun? It is. Ask your Financial Aid Director about it and call your local Tupperware distributor, listed in the Yellow Pages under Plastics or Housewares. Or send in this coupon...

TUPPERWARE Department C-4, Orlando, Florida

I would like to talk to someone about becoming a part-time Tupperware dealer.
